MAISON LADURÉE

160 YEARS
OF EXPERTISE.

Born in Rue Royale, now reigning supreme over all things delicious

*The story of Maison Ladurée began in 1862 when Louis-Ernest Ladurée decided to open his patisserie shop
in Rue Royale, Paris.*

*His daughter-in-law Jeanne Souhard had the ground-breaking idea of adding a dining area to the shop. This became one of the first French-style tea houses. In the early 20th century, Louis-Ernest
Ladurée's little cousin Pierre Desfontaines propelled the Parisian macaron centre stage. Maison Ladurée became synonymous with this delicious little round cake that reinvents itself season after season.*

"The ultimate maison à la française.

An icon of French high patisserie."

Julien Alvarez
Chef pâtissier / Pastry chef

Our pastry chef

The values of Maison Ladurée remain intact and alive in the hearts of our teams. From using raw materials of exceptional quality and local suppliers whenever possible to our respect for seasonal produce and the expertise of the patisserie specialists, we are proud of our extremely high standards at every moment.

And our ambition to marry tradition with creativity.

Creative patisserie chef

Julien Alvarez gives free rein to every fantasy. He draws on the legacy and DNA of Maison Ladurée and incorporates his bold vision too.

Our team and our brigade of international chefs

A veritable and traditional maison à la française, Ladurée shares its pastry expertise all over the world. Every detail is taken care of, from recipes to presentation and service.

The image features a central light green vertical band containing the text. On either side of this band, there are vertical strips showing a close-up of several green macarons. Each macaron has a smooth, rounded top and a filling of white cream with gold dust, visible between the two halves. The macarons are arranged in a slightly overlapping pattern on a white background.
